Pair of Odeon Theater Sconces C1930

Description
ANT-339

Very neat shell motif pair of British theatre style sconces. These sconces are often called “Odeon Sconces” since a main movie house chains, in Britain, named all their theatres “Odeon”. In fact...it sometimes is a synonymous term for a movie theatre when in Britain.

These sconces had frosted, amber and even pink tinted shades around the turn of the century. In older British theaters, you can still see them existing where they have been for over half a century or more.

This particular pair is a more recent manufacturer but still retains the ambiance and magic of the very earliest types.

We have re-wired these sconces to updated UL standards with new medium base sockets; switches and wiring. So, these are ready to hang with an American standard light mounting kit which we will supply.

Measures: 9” tall to the bottom of the switch with a width of 10 1/2”. Protrudes a mere 4” into the room.

Price: $ 550 for the pair with their amber shades plus shipping.

Price:

$550.00
