Description
This unusual American art deco asymmetrical chair and ottoman was purchased in 1933 by the original owners from Modernage Furniture New York. The chair had been re-upholstered several times, but the original owner's son graciously provided a 1939 photograph of him sitting in the chair…we have reupholstered it in the same style and material as original. The chair, with one side higher than the other is very comfortable and allows for a variety of sitting positions. The chair is 36" deep and 32" wide. The tall arm stands at 32" high, the low arm is 23" high and the seat height is 18". The ottoman stands at 15" high, and is 14 1/2" by 14 1/2".
