Description
Mid-century Bombay Rosewood and Mahogany cocktail cabinet designed by noted British designer Russell Gordon. Signed and dated with the original cabinet maker's label found on the cabinet back.

This cocktail cabinet has an elegant and shimmering three-dimensional Bombay Rosewood on its front exterior with a rich Mahogany on the remainder of the exterior and lining the cabinet interior. The top bar service area features a glass shelf for barware with ample room for liquors, decanters, ice buckets, etc. The bottom storage area offers ample liquor storage behind the left door and an ample amount of barware storage behind the right door.

The exterior is refinished in our luxe closed-grain high gloss Italian polyester finish and the interior in a semi-gloss finish. We have standardized for the last several years on a very high quality and high-end finishing product from Italy - it is extremely hard and resilient to bumps, bruises and scratches and is totally water and alcohol impervious.

It is an expensive and skills demanding finishing product but this is Deco-Dence's hallmark ... producing pieces that not only look fabulous today and can be used with peace of mind but that will retain their drop-dead gorgeous looks for decades to come with just a little TLC and minimal effort.

This is a level of quality simply not found anywhere else but at Deco-Dence Gallery!
